

Bullish Engulfing BULLISH  A small red candle gets completely swallowed by the next candle's bigger green body — open below, close above.	Bearish Engulfing BEARISH  A small green candle is swallowed whole by the next candle's bigger red body.	Hammer BULLISH  A candle with a little body at the top and a long lower wick 2–3× the body — sellers dove, buyers slammed the...	Shooting Star BEARISH  Small body at the bottom, long upper wick — a rally that was fully rejected from above.
Doji NEUTRAL  Open and close are (nearly) identical, so the body is a thin line — the wicks show both sides fought to a...	Morning Star BULLISH  Three candles: a strong red, a small-bodied pause (the "star"), then a strong green that climbs back into the...	Evening Star BEARISH  The mirror of morning star: strong green, small pause on top, strong red back into the first body.	Three White Soldiers BULLISH  Three consecutive strong green candles, each opening inside the prior body and closing near its high — a...
Three Black Crows BEARISH  Three long red candles stair-stepping down, each opening inside the prior body and closing near its low.	Bullish Harami BULLISH  A very long red candle ("the mother") followed by a small candle whose entire body fits inside the mother's...	Bearish Harami BEARISH  Long green mother candle, then a small red candle fully inside its body.	Tweezer Bottom BULLISH  Two adjacent candles whose lows land on (almost) the same price — a double-test of the same floor.
Tweezer Top BEARISH  Two back-to-back candles with matching highs — a double-tap on the same ceiling.	Marubozu BULLISH OR BEARISH  A full-bodied candle with no wicks (or barely any): green opens at the low and closes at the high; red does...
